We love the feel of mid-century modern design so we made it a point to create the Riku Small Vase to add the earthiness of the era to our decorative accessory line. Made of terracotta in an intermingling of black and natural glazes, the organic circular shapes that wiggle around the surface of the vase could serve as a nod to the woven shapes of wallhangings so popular during the 1950s or, if your point of view tends to warmer climes might bring a hint of Balinese island style to mind. Regardless of your take on it, it will bring a handsome note to any décor. We also offer the Riku in a large version.
