Our Lubao Small Vase just might convince you there are sites that were once the strongholds of the Roman Empire during antiquity that can still be pilfered. Maybe it's the terracotta from which it is made that makes it seem like an ancient decorative vase; maybe it is the speckled terracotta finish that brings it the patina of an antique (or maybe both). Regardless your take on the material, we are betting you will find it a soulful object d'art in any space. We offer this vase in several sizes.
