With a surface as complex as a character in a Jane Austen novel, our Darcy Credenza has artfully scored antiqued mirror doors that are etched in a simplified line-drawing of a diamond facet setting. Placed in a mid-century modern room, this cabinet with its dove gray finish would certainly take on the era's characteristics but it would look just as apropos in a transitional or an industrial chic interior. The Darcy illustrates the talent of our design and finishing teams, as achieving such a refined sense of texture on a mirrored surface is challenging.
