Naming this wall sconce after the god of light in Greek Mythology is a fitting tribute to the laurel leaf, which has long been associated with the deity. Our Apollo Wall Sconce evokes the crowns with which the god was often adorned and the tree into which Daphne morphed as she ran from him. Just as Apollo made the laurel leaves sprouting from her trunk evergreen, we've finished our tribute in wrought iron in a contemporary gold leaf that makes this design immortal. Designed by Iain Thornton, the sconce is certified for damp locations. We also offer the Apollo in a chandelier.
