Our design team created a shrewd fixture in the nickel version of our Arno Wall Sconce, the placement of the light eggshell linen shade making the composition read as a modern cross with beveled edges. This is a more contemporary symbol than one would find in the famed Italian cathedrals dotting the river after which this sconce is named but a finely conceived design all the same. The metal on this version of the Arno, which meets ADA requirements, has been treated to a polished nickel finish.
