Ah, the classic lines of thin ribs of metal and luminous optic crystal couldn't feel any more alluring than they do on our Winsland Brass Table Lamp! The architectonic configuration of the arms that flow up from the optic crystal base to support the compact shade makes this a knockout for a room filled with storied antiques or highly conceptualized modern art. The polished brass finish to which the metal has been treated brings this version of the Winsland its warmth, whereas with the nickel version of the lamp, it's the black of the marble and the shantung shade.
