When you came to the edge of antique maps that charted the world, the cartographers often wrote, "Beyond this point, thar be dragons." The ancient civilizations that ornamented objects with these beasts were not their inspirations, as is the case with our Sheng Black Table Lamp; they were merely portending the unknown. With its intricate dragon pattern in black and white, this porcelain lamp shows off the artistry of our talented finish artists. We've set it atop an optic crystal base to allow the design to fully shine. The off-white linen shade finishes off this nod to the Far East.
