Who knew that texturing glass could bring such beauty to the material? Why, our talented finish artisans, of course! Our Serres Table Lamp is a study in purposeful patina with the finely scored gray accentuations mottling the surface of the lamp's body. When the lights are switched on, it glows in a golden hue where the etching is not as close-knit. The texture in the oatmeal linen drum shade contributes to make the entire composition feel as if it has been scored.
