The columnar body of our Couthy Table Lamp would have you believe it is more work of art than workhorse, but given the illumination it will bring to any room, it is actually both. Made of terracotta with a smattering of gray splotches on an off-white background, the artful is in the execution, as the random pattern is hand-applied. Topping it off with a steel gray linen shade draws out the darker tones in the body of the lamp.
