A textural marvel, the Imbricate Table Lamp is covered in hand-applied pieces of mother of pearl that have been imbricated, or affixed in an overlapping pattern like roof tiles. The spiky creation is an example of the talent Currey & Company's artisans bring to their work, as these pyramid-shaped pieces of shell are painstakingly cut and applied to the body of the lamp. Metal that we have treated to an antique brass finish form the base and hardware to bring warmth to this composition that is topped with an off-white linen drum shade.
